

Thermographs are digital recording thermometers used to log temperature in different environment's.